

Dr. Mohinder Singh Kadian

(b. September 15, 1953)

Agronomist (Production Specialist), International Potato Centre (CIP), SWCA, IARI
Campus, Pusa, New Delhi-110 012

Email address: m.kadian@cgiar.org

Dr. Kadian has been working with International Potato Centre (CIP) for the last 26 years. He has worked as CIP staff in CGIAR Consortium on diversification of cropping system to improve food security and reduce poverty of resource poor farmers by increased sustainability in the Indo-Gangetic Plains. He has also worked as CIP Coordinator to implement USAID funded projects for production and multiplication of good quality potato seed in Afghanistan. Dr. Kadian was involved in development of TPS technology for farmers of SCWA countries. Under his guidance, farmers, scientists and technicians of Bangladesh and Sri Lanka were trained for quality seed production. Dr. Kadian has over 90 research publications to his credit.